The Foundation is registered in all 50 states of the US.

Form 990, Part III, Line 1 - Organization Mission

One Love's mission is to end relationship abuse by educating young people about healthy and unhealthy relationship behaviors and empowering them to be leaders driving change in their communities.

One Love exists because Yeardley Love was killed and her death was avoidable.

Today, we work to ensure that everyone has information about unhealthy and abusive relationships that Yeardley, her friends and her family did not. We want everyone to understand the danger in these types of relationships and empower them to leave an unhealthy situation—or help someone leave—before it escalates to abuse.

One Love's educational approach starts with the creation of emotionally compelling, film-based content that opens people's eyes to the presence of unhealthy and abusive relationship behaviors in their lives. This content sparks conversations unlike others that have taken place before and gives people guideposts on how to talk about unhealthy and healthy relationships. In opening people's eyes and sparking conversations, we are establishing stigma around abuse that we believe is the first ingredient in changing the horrible statistics around abuse.

Newly awoken and motivated to help others, individuals on campuses and in communities around the country are raising their hand and giving their time, energy and resources toward the movement by joining Team One Love. This decision to participate and desire to help in whatever way —no matter how big or small—is the key to moving from educating to movement-building to social change.

In the last two years, One Love has made great strides in our work to educate, empower and activate young people in this movement for change. We attribute our expansion to the quality of our product, our innovative approach, the timeliness and relevance of this issue, and the fact that we are tapping into an issue that young people have a keen interest in exploring.

Reaching increasing numbers of young people with information about healthy and unhealthy relationships.

- o One Love successfully expanded distribution of the Escalation Workshop nationally.
  - Over 67,000 young people in communities across the country have participated in our core educational product, the Escalation Workshop, a number that has doubled since March.
  - Nearly 5,000 people have been trained as facilitators of the Workshop, a number that goes up every day.
  - In recent testing, 99% of participants would recommend Escalation to a friend and 97% believe it should be required at their school.
  - Pace of distribution continues to expand, with number of workshop participants this August and September on average 60% higher than in the same time periods last year.
- o We successfully brought the conversation and our brand online through #ThatsNotLove.
  - The four chapters of One Love's #ThatsNotLove campaign have been viewed a combined 32 million times in just a year.
  - #ThatsNotLove has been shared 250K times, liked 230K times, and has elicited a combined 40K comments from a very engaged and diverse base of viewers.
  - Throughout the year numerous people told us they were using #ThatsNotLove in

Empowering young people to lead a movement to end relationship violence and inviting them to take action

- o Nearly 15,000 young people have signed up to join Team One Love, signifying their desire to stay active and engaged in our work going forward
- o We are increasingly developing specific campaigns that students can bring to their campuses to build momentum and awareness about healthy relationships and One Love Foundation
  - Examples of campaigns include: #ThatsNotLove flyer campaigns, Stick it to Love, the Scarlett Bookmark, #ThatsNotLove playlist.
  - In September 2016, we averaged 350 sign ups to campaigns per week through our web site
- o One Love's virtual intern program has engaged 85 college students deeply in the last year, supporting them in their efforts to mobilize their campuses and enabling them to network with each other.

Yards for Yeadley was created by three college athletes to raise awareness about relationship violence, show solidarity against both emotional and physical abuse, and honor Yeadley. As part of this initiative, teams sign on to run at least one million yards in their pre-season training. 144 teams from 111 colleges and 46 teams from 41 high schools participated in Yards for Yeadley this year, and they have run over 100 million yards this year.

Team One Love is about uniting people across communities to help end relationship violence. It's about standing up for each other, trusting your gut, and encouraging others to do so, too. Team One Love clubs are started on campuses across the country as a home for students who want to stay engaged with this movement for change after seeing the Escalation Workshop. Across the country, 40 campuses have active Team One Loves with over 9,000 students participating.
