Form 990, Part III, Line 1 - Organization Mission

One in three women and one in four men experience relationship abuse in their lifetime. Young women ages 16-24 are at three times greater risk. Three women a day are killed by their partners in the U.S. alone. The statistics around relationship abuse make it a public health epidemic that all of us have a stake in changing.

One Love exists for one reason: Yeardley Love was killed, and her death was preventable if anyone in her life understood the warning signs of an unhealthy and increasingly dangerous relationship. This realization is the driving force behind our work to educate young people about relationship abuse and rally them in a campaign that can change the statistics.

We started in 2010 out of a family's wish to honor their daughter and expanded in 2015 into a national educational campaign to improve young people's understanding of healthy versus unhealthy relationships. One Love is the national leader in relationship health, educating over 1 million young people through in-person workshops and training 23,000 volunteer facilitators to lead One Love workshops in their communities. One Love's digital campaigns have had over 100 million views online.

As we continue to scale this campaign, engaging even more young people as leaders of this work, we are focused on ensuring the campaign reflects the perspectives and interests of all who are impacted by this issue. Working closely with individuals at schools and colleges, youth-facing organizations, and domestic violence advocates across the country, we will reach more people and engage more voices in a truly
